

CONSTITUTION OF THE COUNCIL

Part 3 Section B

RESPONSIBILITY FOR FUNCTIONS - (B) COMMITTEES

1. Composition, Terms of Reference and Business of Committees

Full Council is responsible for the exercise of all the functions that are the responsibility of the local authority. A number of decisions have been expressly reserved to a meeting of full Council. Beyond this, in order to operate more effectively as an organisation, the Council has arranged for the discharge of all other of its functions to be conducted by a committee, a sub-committee or an officer of the authority or, in certain cases, by another local authority or public body.

This Section deals with the allocation of responsibility for undertaking those functions of the Council that are not reserved to the full Council itself and have been delegated to a committee. In some cases, the law requires the Council to establish a committee and dictates the way it operates. In most cases, however, the Council decides on the size, terms of reference and membership of its committees and are established pursuant to sections 101 and 102 of the Local Government Act 1972.

Articles 6,7 and 8 of this Constitution list the standing committees and sub-committees of the Council, which are grouped as Policy and Service Committees from Article 6, which includes the re-consideration of decisions and overview scrutiny matters referred to at Article 7, and the Regulatory Committees and other Committees from Article 8. Each of these has a different set of functions ascribed to it as set out below. The Committees in turn will reserve a number of decisions to themselves or to a sub-committee that might be established but will otherwise delegate their functions to a relevant officer. Committees shall only establish further sub-committees where there is a compelling reason to do so to facilitate the conduct of the Committee's business and only as may be approved by Council or the Policy and Resources Committee.

The business of Committees and Sub-Committees shall be conducted in accordance with those Council Standing Orders at Part 4(1) of this Constitution. The agenda of any Committee or Sub-Committee shall only include those items of business that require a decision, relate to budget or performance monitoring or which are necessary to discharge their overview and scrutiny function.

Some Committees have statutory or standing advisory or partnership groups associated with them to assist them to carry out their functions, either alone or as part of a formal partnership with other public, community or business bodies.

Described below are the Committees that the Council has established, their terms of reference and details of their membership and approach. The powers and duties that are delegated, listed under the various committees' terms of reference, are across broad functional descriptions and include powers and duties under all legislation, present and future, within those descriptions and all powers and duties including any statutory re-enactment or modification of the legislation referred to or associated with those functions.

The Leader, Deputy Leader and the Political Group Leaders on the Council, if not members of a Committee, shall be permitted to attend meetings of the Committees and Sub-Committees, but with the right to speak only at the Chair's invitation.

2. Working Groups Involving Members
